LOGO LOCKUP RULES

Lockup spacing
Distance between wordmark and tagline = 2× the diameter of the period in ART.DIRECTED.
This ties spacing directly to the mark and keeps the lockup consistent at all sizes.

Clearspace
Minimum clear space = 0.5× cap height of the letter A on all sides.
Practical for tight layouts such as navigation bars. Still protects the mark.

Minimum size
Logo with tagline ≥ 280px wide. Logo without tagline ≥ 120px wide.
Below these widths the tagline becomes unreadable. Use the wordmark-only version instead.

Never place the logo on a busy background without sufficient contrast.

COLOUR PHILOSOPHY

The palette is intentionally minimal.
Imagery supplies most of the colour.
The off-white background creates a gallery or paper tone — not stark white.
Terracotta is never dominant.
Accent colour should appear sparingly — primarily in hover states or small interface details.
Hierarchy is achieved through scale and weight, not colour.

BRAND POSITIONING

ART.DIRECTED. is a creative studio producing campaign imagery through a hybrid process combining human creative direction and digital production.

SHOULD FEEL LIKE

- Aesop
- Apple editorial pages
- High-end photography studios

AVOID AESTHETICS OF

- ✗ AI startups
- ✗ SaaS platforms
- ✗ Tech products

TONE OF VOICE

Direct

Say exactly what is meant. No filler words.

Confident

State things as facts, not possibilities.

Restrained

Less is more. One strong sentence beats three weak ones.

Human

The process is human. Copy should feel like a person wrote it.

Precise

Avoid vague adjectives. Let the imagery carry emotion.

IMAGERY PHILOSOPHY

Campaign imagery should feel photographic, grounded, and believable. Even when environments are digitally produced, lighting and composition should follow the logic of real photography. The image should never announce its process.

APPROACH

Every project begins with a conversation. We interpret the brief, develop visual directions, and present campaign mock-ups before production begins. Once a direction is approved, final imagery is produced digitally using the client's product photography as the foundation. The result is campaign imagery developed with the precision of photography and the flexibility of digital production.
